In an effort to attract residents to build in Hayfield, the Hayfield EDA in conjunction with the City of Hayfield have created a new build residential incentive program.

- ❖ The home owner will get 3% of the building permit value set by CMS (Construction Management Services).
- ❖ There will be no cap on the incentive given.
- ❖ The lot price is not included in the value of the incentive.
- ❖ This program excludes homes built by the EDA.
- ❖ The program will begin 1/6/2016 and end at the discretion of the EDA board.
- ❖ The incentive dollars will stay with the parcel and will be given to the new homeowner after receiving payment of their first water/sewer bill and after all permitting and hook-up fees are paid.
- ❖ The money can be used at the homeowner's discretion for such things (but not limited to) landscaping, appliances, decks, cement, sod, etc.
- ❖ The builder, developer, or contractor is not eligible for the incentive. The incentive is meant for those living in the home.
- ❖ Construction must be on current vacant taxable parcels in Hayfield city limits
- ❖ Residential permits approved on or after January 6th 2016 are eligible
- ❖ Single family residential construction only.
